

EVSCAN (Week 28) As of Jul 10, 2025

EV SCAN is a weekly report produced by the Enteric and Vector-borne Disease Section of the Centre for Health Protection, Department of Health. It summarises the surveillance findings of local situation of hand, foot and mouth disease (HFMD) and enterovirus 71 (EV71) infection.

HIGHLIGHTS

- Although the overall activity of hand, foot and mouth disease (HFMD) remained at the baseline level in Hong Kong, an increasing trend was noted in some indicators in the past few weeks. It is expected that the HFMD activity may continue to increase.
- In Hong Kong, the usual peak season for HFMD and EV71 infection is from May to July. A smaller peak may also occur from October to December.
- HFMD is a common disease in children usually caused by enteroviruses such as Coxsackieviruses and EV71. EV71 infection is of particular concern as it is more likely to be associated with severe medical complications and even death.
